For more than 30 years, our student health & wellness specialists have been in the business of building comprehensive health programs for students, leading the industry in consulting, brokering, and technological advances. We work on behalf of our clients across the nation to secure the best benefits at the best price, allowing colleges and universities to flow through the process in a more time-efficient, effective, and educated manner.

Industry Insights

Colleges and universities have a lot to manage, including the health and safety of their students. As an administrator, you need to take into account many factors that will ultimately affect the physical and mental health of your population and financial health of your organization:

- Attract and retain students, making sure they are able to complete their education regardless of health issues or monetary concerns
- Offer competitive benefits to increase admissions, making health insurance accessible to those weary of the already-high cost of college
- Provide international students with a solution that meets federal requirements while helping them understand the nuances of the American health system and need for health insurance

- Implement an effective and easy-to-use enrollment and waiver platform solution
- Stay on top of how industry trends and federal and state regulations will affect plans
- Keep your student athletes safe and in the game

And that is just managing student health. With so many other responsibilities on your plate, you need a solution that will alleviate some of the administrative burden. That is where we come in: we simplify the process, offering flexibility in program management and streamlining the student experience, while providing high-quality service and care.
